We will introduce the background of the creation of this app, as well as the main functions of Doulingo.

01. The motivation behind founding Doulingo

02. Product Overview

The motivation behind founding Duolingo

Luis von Ahn , he was born in Guatemala

Passionate about mathematics

- yet having to spend extra money to go abroad to take an English exam in order to study mathematics overseas.

This experience made him realize two things:

- 1. Education, especially English education, is a key factor for upward mobility.
- 2. Education within the system does not facilitate social mobility. In fact, it deepens class divisions.

- You can mutually follow friends on the product, and the app will notify you when your friend achieves a particular milestone.
- Friends can use the 'high-five' feature to give encouragement when they see achievement notifications.

Software Development

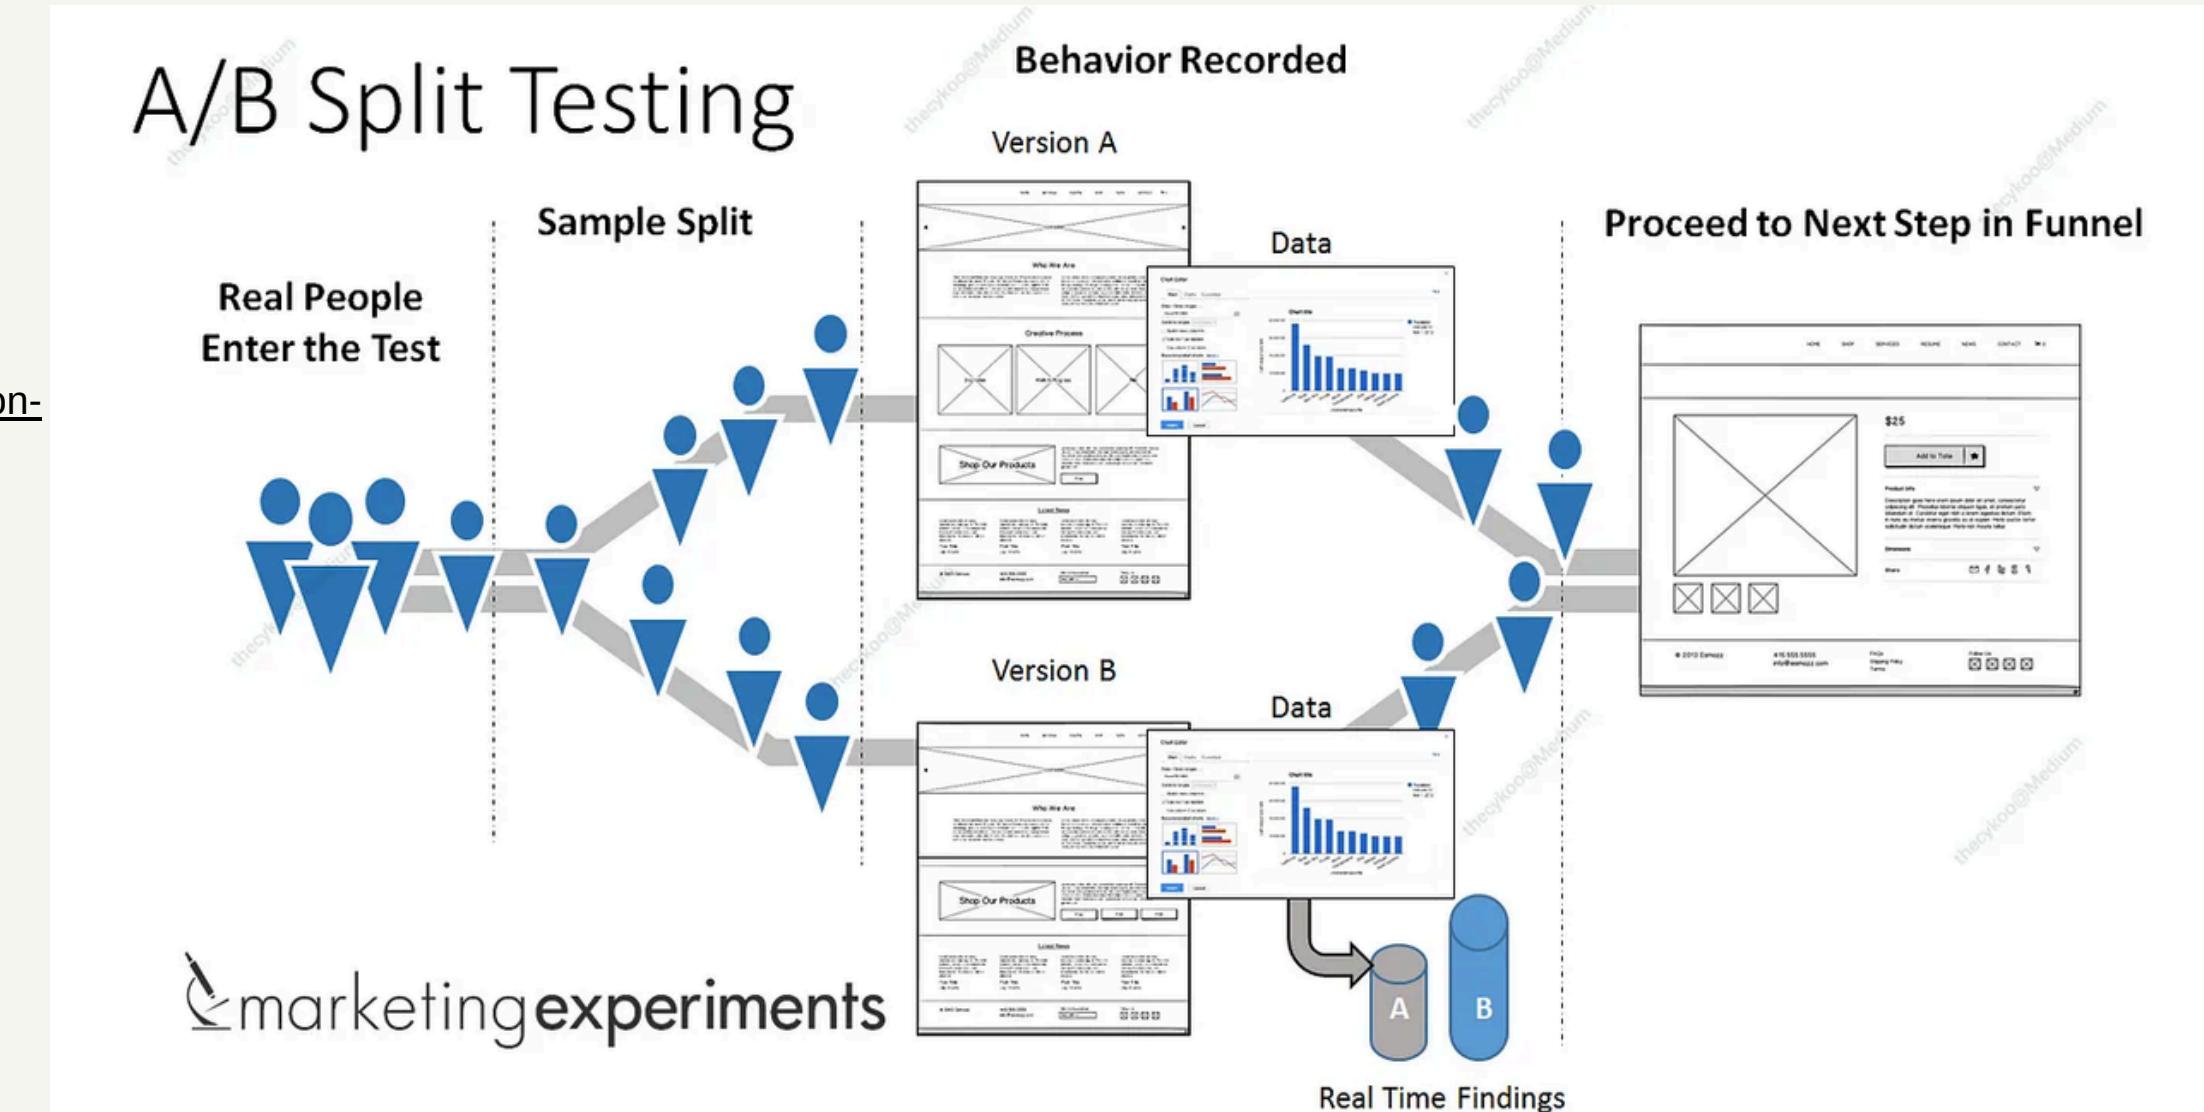

We will also introduce the AB test conducted by the app.

01. A/B Test Process

02. Example of A/B
Test

A/B Test

AB testing can be simplified into the following steps:

1. Set the testing goal.
2. Establish hypotheses on how to achieve the goal, and use them as the testing project.
3. Conduct the test and collect data.
4. Based on the results, launch the version with better performance, and continue testing new hypotheses.

Example of A/B Test

add Leaderboards to the iOS app

01. Customer retention strategies

02. DAUs, MAUs,

Customer retention strategies.

The brilliance of this chart lies in the fact that each user appears in only one square, without repetition, making the flow of users very clear.

Customer retention strategies.

Lever	Impact on MAU in 3 years	Impact on DAU in 3 years
New Users	+11%	+11%
Resurrected Users	+10%	+11%
Current User Retention Rate	+12%	+75%
New User Retention Rate	+0.4%	+2%
Reactivated User Ret. Rate	+0.1%	+0.9%
Resurrected User Ret. Rate	+0.1%	+1%
Inactive WAU React. Rate	+2.5%	+15%
Inactive MAU React. Rate	+3%	+7%

The conclusion is that the growth rate of "Current User Retention Rate (CURR)" is the best, and three years later, the Daily Active Users (DAU) will grow by a remarkable 75%.
